ABOUT ME

I am currently pursuing a PhD in International Relations, with five years of rigorous research experience and a strong academic record that includes seven published papers in the field. My research has covered a broad range of topics within International Relations and related subjects, contributing significantly to scholarly discourse.

Additionally, I have over a year of teaching experience at the university level and at a CSS Academy, where I have successfully designed and delivered curriculum for both undergraduate and advanced students. My academic journey and professional experiences have honed my ability to analyze complex international issues, conduct in-depth research, and effectively communicate my findings.
