

NOMAN SHAIKH

Web Developer

Having worked for 6 years as a qualified software developer, my area of specialization in PHP is particularly Laravel and MySQL. I can create varied solutions that are appropriate for different clients and deliverable projects. My skills extend to Java, jQuery and Android Development and have profound knowledge in Git version control. All along, I have been developing responsive web applications having strong back-end systems. I cannot wait to furnish my expertise; therefore, I am enthusiastic about joining an organization that looks into the future of web development specifically.
