PROJECTS

10/10/2024 - 10/11/2024

Sentiment Analysis

Sentiment Analysis

As part of the Data Science course project submitted to PFTP, I successfully built a machine learning model focused on sentiment analysis using the IMDB movie review dataset. The project involved binary classification to predict whether a review was positive or negative. Key steps included text preprocessing, feature extraction using TF-IDF, and model training using Logistic Regression. The project demonstrated practical application of NLP techniques, and I passed with distinction, securing 83% marks for my performance.
